Re: Prosecutor Marsha Garst

Hello,

I wrote the Virginia State Bar in regards to the misconduct by Marsha Garst during the investigation and trial leading to my wrongful conviction. They wrote me back stating they would not investigate. On 7/16/11 I was removed from the Honor wing housing unit because the victims family for which I am here for, called Marsha and complained. An article was published on 7/16/11 that the Prosecutor would call the warden and get me removed. Isn't it illegal for a prosecutor to engage in abusing her power to harass me while incarcerated? It's not enough she used perjured witnesses, fabricated, untested, altered and undisclosed evidence to convict me. She's up for re-election in November 2012 and it is absurd to allow her to continue this type of misconduct.

Can you do an investigation? If not who will?

Respectfully,

Donna Hookman
